911 means EMERGENCY

A guide for people with autism spectrum disorder

Dial 911 on the telephone ONLY when there is an emergency.

What is an emergency?

An emergency is when you need urgent help from the police, fire department, or rescue squad.

Some emergencies include...

- a fire
- someone has fallen and got hurt
- a burglar is in the house
- a person is hurting someone else
- someone is unconscious
- a person is choking
- someone is bleeding a lot
- a person is severely burned
- a car accident
- a person ate something poisonous
- a tree fell on a car
- someone can’t breathe

If you are unsure, ask a responsible adult who is near you.
What should I say?

Speak slowly and tell the operator on the phone the following information:

My name is ________________ and I have autism.

There is an emergency and I need help.

I am calling from _____________.
(Give the name of the location or the address where you are.)

The emergency is ____________.

If you are hurt, tell the operator.

The operator will ask you questions about the emergency.

Listen to each question carefully, then answer. Speak clearly into the phone without yelling.

If the operator asks you to do something or go somewhere, listen to his or her instructions carefully. Then, follow the instructions.

If you have any questions or difficulties, tell them to operator.
What should I do?

- Try to be calm.
- Explain what happened and how many people seem hurt.
- Do not put down the phone unless the operator on the phone instructs you.
- Never touch a person who is injured unless you are told by the operator.
- Do not go to get your favorite belongings or a pet. There may be hidden dangers.
- Never hide from a police officer, firefighter, or rescue worker. Always listen to their instructions.
- Stay away from fire, sharp items, chemicals, and other dangerous things.
- Do not hit, kick, or hurt another person. Stay away from someone who is hurting another person.
- Let the emergency responder know if you take medication.

Practice safety rules with others so you are prepared for an emergency.
Emergency Responders are people who respond to emergency situations. They protect, help, and save people.

It is important to know who these people are during an emergency. They usually wear uniforms and ride in emergency vehicles.

Always listen to an emergency responder in an emergency. Do not run away or hurt them. He or she is there to protect you and others.

Emergency Dispatch Operator

This operator answers the 911 call and asks questions in order to determine which emergency responders to send to an emergency.

Emergency Medical Technician (EMT)

An EMT helps a person who may be injured or needs to go to the hospital because of a medical emergency.

Firefighter

A firefighter is a person who is trained to put out different types of fires and to protect people from getting burned or hurt in a fire.

Police Officer

Police officers protect people and help keep places safe. Police officers can help when a person is lost or feels unsafe.
Take time to learn more about Emergencies

Ask a parent, librarian, teacher, police officer, fire fighter, emergency medical technician (EMT), or other adult for more information.
An emergency can happen anytime or anywhere.

It is important to use 911 for real emergencies.

Get to know some of the emergency responders in your community to learn more.

Get more information about autism and safety at www.childrens-specialized.org

This program is made possible by Children’s Specialized Hospital through the generosity of Kohl’s Cares.

© 2013 Children’s Specialized Hospital